

NCDTech: FAQ Connect to a Terminal Server

If you are using Windows XP please skip to step 4

1. You will need to download the client software at the following link
<http://download.microsoft.com/download/whistler/tools/1.0/wxp/en-us/msrdpcli.exe>
2. Choose open from the file download dialogue box to begin the download
3. The windows installer will begin and you will just accept all the defaults to complete the install
4. Go to the START MENU click Programs/Accessories/Communication and select Remote Desktop Connection
5. The Remote Desktop Connection application will open. In the computer field type Enter IP Address and click connect.
6. This will open the login window to the server. Enter your username USERNAME and your password PASSWORD without quotes.
7. Very important! Once you are ready to finish your session click start and select logoff. If you do not select logoff, your session will remain open and prevent other users from being able to access the server remotely.
